Additional Information / Prior Funding History:

Prior Department of the Army projects include historic preservation planning and preparation of a National Register of Historic Places nomination.

Project Description/Justification:

Description of Work to be done:

The historic preservation projects will help the Army implement recommended stabilization, repair, restoration and adaptive reuse of historic buildings.

Project Benefits: Historic buildings will be restored, repaired and used. Alaskans will benefit from significant heritage resources, physical reminders of our state's history, being preserved and continuing a functional use as part of our communities.

Economic Development: The project creates local construction jobs and heritage tourism opportunities. It prolongs the functional life of existing buildings, thereby contributing to the conservation of resources and infrastructure. It preserves heritage resources important to a community's quality of life.

Projected Revenue to the State: $0.0

Project Support: The Department of Defense, The Alaska Historical Commission, state and local historic preservation and economic development agencies and organizations, and the Nike Site Summit Task Force actively support this project.

Project Opposition: There is no known opposition

Specific Spending Detail: The project will fund restoration work on historic buildings including repair and replacement of
