Project Description

Principal's Priority

3

Research indicates that teachers and students benefit from a voice amplification system for the teacher in the classroom. The voice quality is clear without the teacher having to strain his/her voice, students can hear from any point in the classroom and there are added benefits for those with or without hearing impairments, English Language Learner or special education status.

Add amplification systems for every instructional classroom setting (30) at Creekside Park.

Benefits if Project is Funded

All students will more clearly hear the instruction of the classroom teacher, teachers voices will not be strained and students will gain skills in academic subject manner.
