Component Mission

Component Services Provided

Victims For Justice (VFJ) provides the following services to victims of crime other than domestic violence and sexual assault:

- 1) Crisis intervention to victims experiencing acute stress because of a violent crime. Available 24-hours a day for support to victims.
- 2) Individual and peer group, specialized grief counseling.
- 3) Advocacy and support throughout the law enforcement, criminal justice and medical systems.
- 4) Referrals and cooperative relationships with the police, medical examiner's office, district attorney's office, Division of Family and Youth Services, court personnel, corrections, violent crimes compensation and other victim services providers.
- 5) Assist in the preparation of victim impact statements.
- 6) Preparation and distribution of specialized materials aimed at reducing the impact of violent crime of victims.
- 7) Court accompaniment and information about the criminal justice process for survivors of homicide, during and after the trial proceedings.
- 8) Community prevention and education.
- 9) Private remembrance ceremonies for the family of victims of homicide.
- 10) Court-watch program provides trained neutral non-victim volunteers to monitor and produce public evaluation reports on the criminal justice system.

As evidenced by the utilization of services by victims in Anchorage, VFJ is a much needed service. Legislative appropriations provide a means to continue these quality victim services.

Component Goals and Strategies

To reduce the impact of crime on victims, their families and the community by providing services to survivors of homicide victims and victims of physical assault. Funds appropriated for this program are administered by the Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault.

Key Component Issues for FY2001 – 2002

When looking at violent crime in Alaska, the crime rate is often viewed as an indicator of how Alaska is doing. While recent statistics report that the rate of major crime has dropped in the last few years, it is important to note that the decline was from an exceedingly high rate to begin with. Statewide there are thousands that are victimized by crime. When noting the ripple effect crime has on families, friends and communities, there are literally tens of thousands of Alaskans who are touched by crime.

Victims of violent crimes experience acute stress, overwhelming grief, and the need for information about all aspects of their victimization. Victims For Justice (VFJ) meets these needs through crisis intervention, individual and peer group support, advocacy and court accompaniment.

Major Component Accomplishments for FY2000

- In FY2000 the following services were provided to a total of 745 victims of violent crime:
  - 419 individual and group counseling sessions
  - 239 legal advocacy services
  - 112 outreach and education services
