A general fund increment for an assistant state assessor position and related expenses is requested to review the property assessment practices used by municipalities on a timely basis. The State Assessor's review of local assessment practices is critical to assuring the integrity of the Full and True Value Determination (FTVD) that is made for property in each municipality. The State Assessor's Full and True Value Determination serves as the State's independent assessment of the full and true value of all taxable property within a given locality.

Currently, information about Alaska's economy, labor force and industrial sectors is widely scattered among various agencies and organizations. The Alaska Economic Information System (AEIS) is designed to provide user-friendly access to all this information at a one-stop portal on the Web. This system will be a tremendous development resource for businesses, communities and individuals - saving them significant time and effort in collecting the information on which to base development plans. Users will be able to view a map of Alaska on line, click on a census area, and quickly get the picture of that area's basic economic industries such as tourism, oil and gas, mining, and seafood. Comprehensive information will also be provided for the critical infrastructure elements of transportation, energy, and utility sectors that support long-term viable economic development. Users will be able to "drill down" through the Web site to get to greater levels of detail about their specific areas of interest, including graphs and working spreadsheets that users can download to their own computers for further analysis. As a portal, the AEIS will also contain a host of links to other Web sites relevant to an understanding of the Alaska economy.
An increment is requested to establish four new positions and related expenses. The positions would be responsible for working with other state, federal and regional organizations to develop data and protocols to ensure that the information in the AEIS database is as up-to-date, accurate and comprehensive as possible, and to continually expand the information resources contained in the AEIS. Positions will also be responsible for developing detailed, sub-regional economic analyses of specific public policies or development projects.

Fund contract trade representation in the People's Republic of China (PRC) to promote China's import of Alaska goods and services.
Over the past ten years Alaska's exports to PRC have been between $100 million and $200 million. China was Alaska's fourth largest trading partner in 2000, and is Alaska's greatest developing market opportunity for the export of Alaska's natural resources and technical services.
Alaska has a history of being first in Asian markets. Alaska was the first American State to open a trade office in Japan (1965) and the first in Korea (1985). Although Alaska will not be first in the PRC, several factors call for establishing representation now:
1. Alaska's timber industry - an industry in crisis -- has requested the state establish trade representation in the PRC to bolster industry members' efforts to diversify their markets.
2. Alaska seafood exports to the PRC nearly doubled in the last year, from $50 million in 1999 to $96 million in 2000. Trade representation is essential to foster buyer-seller contacts, in order to complement ASMI's consumer promotion work.
3. The nature of business in China is that business contacts remain heavily influenced by government involvement. The State of Alaska can best serve Alaska businesses by establishing a presence in Beijing. It would send a positive signal to the PRC's government and business community that Alaska finds it important to develop trade representation there.

When tourism marketing was transferred to a qualified trade association (QTA) by statute in 1999, 30% of the marketing budget was to be raised by the QTA. By statute (AS 44.33.125(a)), this percentage increases to 60% in the FY03 contract. Assuming the tourism industry can meet its promised contribution under the Millennium Plan, based on the Plan's projected total budget of $10 million, the State's share of the budget will be reduced from $4.6 million to $4.0 million.

The Colleagues in Caring program is currently administered by the University of Alaska through an RSA from the division. In FY01, the division received 140.0 in expenditure authority to support Colleagues in Caring, which is a consortium of nursing employers, educators and regulators dedicated to ensure an adequate supply of properly-trained nursing professionals. The Board believes it can deliver the best program by bringing Colleagues in Caring directly under the Board within the Division of Occupational Licensing, following the model of other states. A Nurse III position is being created in the division to administer the program.

The primary goal of the division in FY03 will be to restructure and support the Investigative Unit. The Investigative Unit has grown from six investigators to fourteen as the number of licensing programs, the number of license holders and the complexity of cases have expanded. The growth of the Investigative Unit and its responsibilities means that the Chief Investigator can no longer directly supervise all investigators and give each case the necessary oversight. Supervision is important because of the impact of investigative decisions on the life of the accused and the safety of the public. The legislature recognized the importance of the Investigative Unit when it created a budget measure focused on investigative efficiency. Therefore, the division would like to establish a senior investigator position to oversee the work of a section of the unit. The division also requests a technician position to assist all the investigators in tracking and organizing their caseload.

The Board of Nursing licenses over 10,000 nurses, advanced nurse practitioners and certified nurse aides, representing over 25% of the division's licensees. Board responsibilities have become increasingly complex and challenging due to the mobility of the workforce, changes in healthcare delivery, public protection expectations and expansion of the nurse aides certification program. The Board cannot meet the needs of the healthcare industry and fulfill its public safety responsibilities without reorganization and expansion of its staff. The Board has requested the following increments. 61.1 Investigator III (range 18B) to create a second nurse investigator. 106 new Board of Nursing investigations opened during FY01. 61.1 Nurse III (range 18B) to assist the executive administrator of the Board of Nursing at a professional level and provide focus on nurses impaired by substance abuse. 47.8 Licensing Examiner (range 14B) to certify the increasing number of nurse aides and to handle the additional work when temporary nurse aide certification is created to provide time for criminal justice fingerprint checks. 109.3 Criminal justice reports on nurse and nurse aide applicants based on fingerprint checks by DPS and the FBI. The Department of Public Safety charges $59 for each state/federal fingerprint check. The Board of Nursing believes that criminal background checks are necessary to protect the public and will, therefore, adopt regulations requiring fingerprint checks during its September 19 meeting. Applicants will pay the Division of Occupational Licensing the $59 fee, which in turn will be paid to Department of Public Safety.

This increment creates a new Market Conduct Examiner position located in Juneau. Currently the Market Conduct Section is composed of only 3 positions, one of which is supervisory. In the past the Alaska Division of Insurance had six Market Conduct Insurance Analysts (examiners) plus a supervisor. Gradually, the section was redesigned and moved entirely to Anchorage, and through attrition and other factors, the section was reduced to one person. Adding a Market Conduct position to Juneau results in closer proximity for the conduct of specialized market conduct examinations of surplus lines brokers, the majority of whom are Seattle based. The Alaska Science and Technology Foundation has received a contract from the Idaho National Engineering and Environmental Laboratory (INEEL). The INEEL is a science-based, applied engineering national laboratory dedicated to supporting the U.S Department of Energy's missions in environment, energy, science and national defense. The INEEL is operated for the DOE by Bechtel BWXT Idaho, LLC.
The ASTF contract with INEEL includes developing business contacts and identifying, promoting, and helping prepare and negotiate specific business proposals in Alaska for opportunities in environmental, energy, transportation, and other specified areas.
The contract begins March 1 and will end in September, with the strong possibility of renewal. $25,000 was requested in the FY 2002 supplemental budget. The FY 2003 anticipated funding is $90,000.

1089 Power Cost		1,833.4
Due to continuing increased fuel costs and updated projections, the PCE program is expected to cost $18,793.4 in FY03 to operate the program at the statutorily established level. This increment increases the PCE fund appropriation to $18,793.4. Additional general funds are appropriated to the PCE fund in the language section.

This increment will allow the hiring of two project managers and one finance assistant to cover increased workload due to additional Denali Commission funding for bulk fuel and rural power system upgrade projects. Funding for the increased I/A can be found in the AEA Statewide Rural Energy Operations component under the Alaska Energy Authority BRU.

The seafood industry, Alaska's largest private sector employer, is suffering from severely depressed salmon market prices. These depressed prices are, in large part, being driven by a flood of farmed salmon. As a result, average ex-vessel prices for Alaskan wild salmon are low. Revenue generated by the 1% Salmon Marketing Tax is expected to decline from FY02 levels by at least $700.0 This reduction will have a significant negative impact on ASMI's marketing efforts. Increased marketing will be needed to help offset depressed market conditions. To have an effect on the upcoming summer fishing season, this will need to be addressed prior to FY03.
