Sites are selected based on number of Guardsmen at the site and the anticipated energy savings generated by the upgrade. Current projects consist of installing Direct Digital Controls to maximize heating efficiency, replacing hot water boilers and furnances, increasing building insulation and downsizing hot water tanks.

Project Description/Justification:Detailed Project Justification:

Each year specific federal funding is earmarked for energy projects that compete based on their scoring of the Saving to Investment Ratio (SIR) calculation. The SIR considers how much is spent on the upgrade and how much is saved over the economic life of the upgrade. This means that both large and small projects compete on the same basis. Our SIR's have a simple payback of approximately 5 years.

Why is this Project Needed Now:

The energy projects will reduce the annual operating consumption rates regarding heating and electrical energy requirements. The projects also generate economic activity when materials are purchased and construction labor is utilized.

Specific Spending Detail:

Design will be done in-house and construction work will be bid. Construction materials are purchased and installed by the contractor.

State Match Required:
