Project Description/Justification:

This project has not been requested in a previous budget.

Contractors working on public construction projects in Alaska are required to file biweekly payroll reports with the Division of Labor Standards and Safety. The primary purpose of this filing requirement is to ensure compliance with Alaska's resident hire and prevailing wage laws. This project will fund the programming necessary to create a system to enable contractors to file certified payrolls online via a secure connection. Data will be verified for accuracy and completeness saving the department time, and automating this manual process will also reduce the time and money expended by contractors. The system will improve customer service to Alaska's contractors through increased accessibility outside traditional business hours and by providing an efficient alternative filing method.

Program development will include contractual expenditures for: Planning $8,000; Requirements Definition $16,000; and Programming $100,000. Supplies purchased will include Development Software $10,000.

With the implementation of this project, the Department's Field Tax Office in the Employment Security Division and the Research Analysis section in the Administrative Services Division will more easily access the electronic certified payroll data. Also, these divisions will realize a higher quality of data collected on-line, due to on-line validation. The Child Support Enforcement Division in the Department of Revenue would more easily access the electronic certified payroll data.
