CSI FORENSIC SCIENCE CAMP is designed to generate interest in science and engineering while filling a gap in educational opportunities for rural and home schooled students. With a proven 6 year track record, the camp was funded by a 2 year grant from ConocoPhillips, funded by FOAST for two years and by a State grant for the years 2011-2012. As the first of its kind, FOAST Forensic Science Camp set the bar and influenced the Anchorage high schools to teach Forensic Science classes. Our goal is to continue to offer this opportunity to middle and high schools out of the mainstream who have limited accessibility to this type of experience.
